

Web Strategy selling Homesites

Selling Homesites during an economic down turn

In these difficult economic times it is not surprising people are wary of the stock market. With interest rates at all time lows land buyers are looking to invest in prime recreational, waterfront real estate seeking capital appreciation and minimal risk.

They are both resident and non-resident, savvy investors who recognize value. Prime recreational land within 3 hours of a major international airport warrants a serious look.

The bulk of our clientele have gone the extra mile, surveyed, subdivided and put protective covenants in place. Helping land owners put together a compelling story about their property is where we come in.

To learn more about our experience in web marketing homesites & lots please see our Case Studies. Case Studies include three unique 'homesites for sale' client assignments and a Land tract offering, the largest land sale of it's kind in the state of Minnesota.

To inquire about our services with respect to your land offering please send us an email with links or information pertaining to your property(s). We'll gladly take a look and at the very least provide some useful feedback.
